

Desire2Learn

Summary

Desire2Learn is the college's primary learning management system and is responsible for online delivery of course material.

Accessibility Problems

- content creators must learn and follow accessibility standards for document types they wish to host on D2L aside from built-in file creator and HTML editor.
- files loaded onto a D2L course are not automatically checked for accessibility.
- streaming video loaded onto D2L's video hosting services are not automatically captioned. Information on captioning at HGTC is forthcoming.

Accessibility Features

- Desire2Learn's infrastructure is designed to meet current federal and industry standards, so you don't have to worry about the interface itself.
- Desire2Learn's accessibility resources pages walks users through designing an accessible course using current federal and industry standards. The link to these pages is provided on the ADA resource row devoted to Desire2Learn.
