Horry-Georgetown Technical College is committed to minimizing financial barriers by providing financial aid services/programs for eligible and qualified students. These services/programs may include grants, scholarships, veterans' educational benefits, employment, and student loans.

The College administers all financial aid services/programs with the intent of:

- A. Enabling students to plan for the most efficient use of both personal and financial aid resources;
- B. Offering financial aid consistent with individual student need.

Financial aid programs offered by the College are audited in compliance with all federal and state requirements.
