Primary Prevention Programs
Each semester, the Office of Student Affairs sends a Title IX direct mail campaign to all enrolled students. This printed postcard contains information about non-discrimination and Title IX and directs the students to the College’s online Title IX resources. In addition, the Office of Student Affairs also sends an email to all enrolled students about non-discrimination and Title IX and directs the students to the College’s online Title IX resources. New Students receive information about Title IX through the online New Student Orientation program. Orientation and online resources contain the following elements: a statement that the College prohibits the crimes of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking, the definition of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking, and of consent in this jurisdiction; descriptions of safe and positive options for bystander intervention, and information on risk reduction.

The Office of Human Resources provides training to all new employees on how to respond to student complaints regarding sexual harassment, sexual assault and/or relationship violence.

Ongoing Prevention and Awareness Programs
The Division of Student Affairs provides education and information on issues of Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, and Stalking through printed and electronic materials and other programming throughout the academic year. Examples include special programs, communications, and events during Domestic Violence Awareness Month and Sexual Assault Awareness Month.

Information about non-discrimination and Title IX, including the name, title, and office location of the College’s Title IX Coordinator, is included in every Instructional Packet for every course taught at the College.

The Office of Human Resources provides opportunities for ongoing training to all employees on how to respond to student complaints regarding sexual harassment, sexual assault and/or relationship violence.

Definitions
The College prohibits the crimes of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking as those terms are defined under the Clery Act. So that the College may address any such violation, the Student Code Procedures for Addressing Alleged Acts of Sexual Harassment under Title IX provides the following definitions. (South Carolina Technical College System 3-2-106.2)

Consent is clear, knowing, and voluntary agreement. Consent is active, not passive. Silence, in and of itself, cannot be interpreted as consent. Consent can be given by words or actions, as long as those words or actions create mutually understandable clear permission regarding willingness to engage in (and the conditions of) sexual activity. Consent to any one form of sexual activity cannot automatically imply consent to any other forms of sexual activity. Previous relationships or prior consent cannot imply consent to future sexual acts.

Sexual Assault is defined as rape, fondling, incest, and statutory rape.

Rape is the penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim.
Fondling is the touching of the private parts of another person for the purpose of sexual gratification without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of his/her age or because his/her temporary or permanent mental incapacity.
Incest is sexual intercourse between persons who are related to each other within degrees wherein marriage is prohibited by law (see S.C. Code Ann. § 16-15-20).
Statutory rape is sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent (see S.C. Code Ann. § 16-3-655)

Stalking means engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to (1) fear for his or her safety or the safety of others; or (2) suffer substantial emotional distress. For the purposes of this definition: “Course of conduct” means two or more acts, including, but not limited to, acts which the stalker directly, indirectly, or through third parties, by any action, method, device, or means follows, monitors, observes, surveils, threatens, or communicates to or about, a person, or interferes with a person’s property; “reasonable person” means a person of ordinary prudence and action under the circumstances in which the course of conduct occurs; and “substantial emotional distress” means significant mental suffering or anguish that may, but does not necessarily, require medical or other professional treatment or counseling.

Domestic Violence includes felony or misdemeanor crimes of violence committed by a person who is a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim, or person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim; is cohabitating or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner; shares a child in common with the victim; or commits acts against youth or adult victim who is protected from those acts under the family or domestic violence laws of the jurisdiction.

Dating Violence means violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim, where the existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on a consideration of the following factors: the length of the relationship; the type of relationship; and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship.

Bystander Intervention
RAINN: www.rainn.org/articles/your-role-preventing-sexual-assault

Bystander Intervention describes a situation where someone who isn’t directly involved steps in to change an outcome.
Refuse to be a bystander. Take action when you see risky behavior. If you witness someone trying to lead an intoxicated person into a private room, or if you see someone supplying another person with drinks or acting in a sexually aggressive manner, find help and intervene. Likewise, pay attention to your friends so that you can help them if they are being targeted or are in a vulnerable situation. If you feel threatened or too unsafe to intervene, then call 911.

Information on Risk Reduction
RAINN: www.rainn.org/articles/staying-safe-campus

Increasing Safety on Campus and at Home: These tips may reduce risk for many different types of crimes, including sexual violence.

- Know your resources. Who should you contact if you or a friend needs help? Where should you go? Locate resources such as the campus health center, campus police station, and a local sexual assault service provider. Notice where emergency phones are located on campus, and program the campus security number into your cell phone for easy access.
- Stay alert. When you’re moving around on campus or in the surrounding neighborhood, be aware of your surroundings. Consider inviting a friend to join you or asking campus security for an escort. If you’re alone, only use headphones in one ear to stay aware of your surroundings. Be careful about posting your location. Many social media sites, like Facebook and Foursquare, use geolocation to publicly share your location. Consider disabling this function and reviewing other social media settings.
- Make others earn your trust. A college environment can foster a false sense of security. They may feel like fast friends, but give people time to earn your trust before relying on them.
- Think about Plan B. Spend some time thinking about back-up plans for potentially sticky situations. If your phone dies, do you have a few numbers memorized to get help? Do you have emergency cash in case you can’t use a credit card? Do you have the address to your dorm or college memorized? If you drive, is there a spare key hidden, gas in your car, and a set of jumper cables?
- Be secure. Lock your door and windows when you’re asleep and when you leave the room. If people constantly prop open the main door to the dorm or apartment, tell security or a trusted authority figure.

College Procedures
While activities covered by the South Carolina Code of Laws and those covered by HGTC’s Student Code of Conduct may overlap, the criminal code and College rules operate independently and do not substitute for each other. The College may pursue enforcement of its own rules whether or not legal proceedings are underway. However, HGTC may use information from law enforcement agencies and the court to determine if College rules have been violated and to implement appropriate corrective and/or disciplinary actions.

The College will respond promptly to any report of sexual assault or relationship violence. This would include domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking that occurs on any HGTC Campus or at any HGTC-sponsored event involving students.

Any student who has been subjected to any form of violence, including domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking, on campus or at a College-sponsored event should report the incident to the Department of Public Safety, the Title IX Coordinator and/or any trusted member of the College faculty or staff immediately.

Any College employee who receives a report of an alleged act of violence of any kind involving students should immediately notify Public Safety and/or the Title IX Coordinator. The only HGTC employees exempt from mandatory reporting are licensed mental health professionals (only as part of their job description such as counseling services).

College disciplinary procedures for allegations of student sexual assault and relationship violence occurring on any HGTC Campus or at any HGTC-sponsored event involving students are initiated through the Title IX Coordinator. The accuser and the accused are entitled to the same opportunities to have others present during an institutional disciplinary proceeding, including the opportunity to be accompanied to any related meeting or proceeding by an advisor of their choice. Both the accuser and the accused shall simultaneously be informed, in writing, of the following: (i) the outcome of any institutional disciplinary proceeding that arises from an allegation of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking; (ii) the institution’s procedures for the accused and the victim to appeal the results of the institutional disciplinary proceeding; (iii) any change to the results that occurs prior to the time that such results become final, and (iv) when such results become final.

Response Procedures
Support for Sexual Assault and Relationship Violence Survivors
The Division of Student Affairs makes referrals to free and confidential counseling services for students who have survived sexual assault or relationship violence (occurring on or off-campus). Community partner agencies provide crisis intervention and other support. The division maintains a partner relationship with numerous informational and referral organizations, including the Rape Crisis Center of Horry and Georgetown Counties, accessible online at www.victimtosurvivor.org or by phone 24-hours-a-day at (843)448-7273.

What should you do if Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, or Stalking happens to you?
- Get to a safe place and consider notifying the police.
- Contact a trusted friend or family member for help and support.
- To report anonymously, proceed to the nearest emergency room.
- Get immediate medical attention for possible injuries. A survivor can choose who to talk to and not talk to at any time.

The list below provides several options, but these are not required steps for a survivor.
Call 911, Local Law Enforcement, or HGTC Public Safety

Conway:
843-349-7806
Cell 843-251-6111
• Receive assistance from campus authorities in notifying law enforcement authorities, if you choose to do so.
• Do not shower, bathe, douche, eat, drink, smoke, urinate, brush your teeth, or change your clothes if you have been assaulted or raped.
• Do not disturb anything at the scene of the assault or throw away any evidence.
• Go to a hospital for medical care. You can be given a physical exam and options for the prevention of pregnancy, STIs and HIV/AIDS.
• Medical professionals are required to notify the police whenever they treat a rape victim, but the decision to make a formal police report is still yours.
• If you decide not to go to the police immediately, write down all the details of the assault (who, what, when, where, why, and how) and keep them in case you wish to report the assault later.
• If the incident occurred on campus or at a college sponsored event, report the incident to your Title IX Coordinator or to a College Official with Authority.
• Seek crisis intervention through resources such as these.

Options for Survivors – Employees and Students
The survivor of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and/or stalking may request options for, and available assistance in, changing academic, living, transportation, and working situation, and if such accommodations are reasonably available, the college will comply with the request, regardless of whether the victim chooses to report the crime to campus police or local law enforcement. The College will also provide written communication regarding community and/or on-campus resources for student financial aid, counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, and other services. The College can also assist in obtaining “no-contact” orders, restraining orders, or similar lawful orders.

Further, any allegation of sexual assault or relationship violence occurring on any HGTC Campus or at any HGTC-sponsored event involving students may require a report to Public Safety and/or local law enforcement for criminal investigation. College disciplinary sanctions for sexual assault may range up to and include suspension or expulsion. Criminal prosecution for sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and harassment or stalking is initiated by contacting Public Safety or local law enforcement authorities.

The survivor should contact the college’s Title IX Coordinator for assistance with these options and/or for assistance with making a report to HGTC’s Public Safety or local law enforcement. The survivor may decline to notify such authorities.

Confidentiality
HGTC is committed to maintaining confidentiality in all investigations and record keeping to the extent that would not impair the ability of the institution to provide accommodations or protective measures. The College will protect the confidentiality of victims and other necessary parties by excluding personally identifying information regarding reporting and disclosing incidents under the Clery Act.

The college must keep confidential the identity of complainants, respondents, third-party reporters, and witnesses involved in the grievance process, except as may be permitted by FERPA, as required by law, or as necessary to carry out a Title IX proceeding. The college must maintain as confidential any supportive measures provided to the complainant or respondent, to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality would not impair the ability of the college to provide the supportive measures. If a formal complaint is made to the Title IX Coordinator, confidentiality of the complainant may not be maintained. However, both parties and their advisors may be required to sign non-disclosure or privacy notices requesting that information shared as part of the sexual harassment grievance process not be disclosed.
